Rob Carpenter is CEO of the Inspire Partnership, a family of schools across South East London and Medway, Kent. Rob has been a head teacher for over 15 years and has experience of school leadership in a range of contexts. He is a National Leader of Education, a Senior Partner with Challenge Partners, and author of the recently released 'A Manifesto for Excellence'.

Following the hugely successful leadership seminar he led for Learners First in September, we are delighted to welcome Rob back to South Yorkshire for a second leadership seminar in the New Year. During this seminar he will share his beliefs of how the quality of teaching and leadership holds the key to raising standards in schools today. Referring to his recently released book, Rob will also discuss how teachers and leaders can transform their learning journeys, both individual and whole-school, so that their school is inclusive and supportive, creating the best education for all. He will look at new ways to ensure all children succeed, and advocate that learning journeys are connected to a moral purpose, positive learning habits and that they help young people make sense of the world around them. The seminar will contain a balance of both practical advice and draw on a range of examples, resources and ideas to help teachers and leaders become architects for learning and support them to design classrooms, curricula and whole-school practices that are inclusive and engaging.

'Fantastic CPD from an inspirational leader'

'Amazing! Inspirational! Motivating! Fabulous that Rob is coming back.'

'I cried I felt so passionate!' 'Rob is very humble, relatable and amusing in his approach'
