

‘Stand Up for SEND Rights: SEND Entitlement & The Law’

Do you know your entitlement and rights as an education provider working with children & young people with SEND?

Learners First is delighted to welcome specialist SEND and Inclusion Education legal team Esther Salter and Rachael Smurthwaite to host an informative session to review the legal framework surrounding EHCPs and how to challenge unlawful decision making and underfunding. This will be an opportunity to hear the latest guidance, what to do to challenge decisions and review real case studies in schools, MATs and settings across the country. It will be a chance for networking and to have your legal questions answered in this very complex and critical area of education provision.

Tuesday, December 3rd 9-12.30 pm @ Aston Hall Hotel, S26 2EE

We will consider:

- When is an EHCP unlawful, unenforceable, under-funded and practical strategies of what to do about it
- Reviewing the EHCP effectively—avoiding statutory breaches and the legal remedies available
- School consultations, direction to admit and how to challenge these; and
- Much more...

By the end of the session, delegates will:

- Understand the difference between legal test for assessments and issue of an EHCP
- Understand the requirements for specificity, quantification and enforceability of EHCPs
- Recognise, adhere to and challenge the statutory timescales to review an EHCP and how and when to use the law when they are breached.
- Clarify consultation duties for EHCP admissions, how to reply assertively and challenge unreasonable directions from external parties

Target Audience: CEO, Head teachers, Setting Managers, MAT Leaders, SENCOs, Inclusion Leaders, School leaders, SEND decision makers

Booking a Place: Limited places available so please book early. Complete the booking form here

Cost: Fully funded for schools and MAT subscribing to Learners First. For non-subscribing schools, the cost is £150 per delegate

Venue: Aston Hall Hotel, Worksop Road, Sheffield S26,2EE